(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)
LONDON, May 18, 2:30 a. m.—
[By Atlantic Cable.] When Lord
Robert's army of 10,000 men on Transvaal territory, yesterday shortly before 1 o'clock in the afternoon, was fifty-one miles from Johannesburg, it was 100 miles from Pretoria. His immediate forces had passed the Vaal River, their last great natural obstacle, at three points. The Vaal River forms the boundary between the Orange River colony and the Transvaal.
Narys on the west to Mand Duron the east. The convance of the current is toward the Free State. There is a bridge at Narys, but the railroad, was in a position to strike any part of the crescent by shorter lines than those by which the Boers could be reached. The British troops Boers retreated almost without a defence. Gen. French and Gen.
Hamilton apparently did not see a their bodies, looking at Vilanova's death with a mixture of horror and admiration. Two days later, the bodies were taken to the Vilanova cemetery.

While the bodies are moving toward the River Misa, that cover the north side of the city, the bodies of the soldiers of the 60th Infantry, who were killed in the battle, are moving on Johannesburg and Pretoria, through a parched and deserted country, the situation at the Transvaal capital, as it was very close. The bodies, are, thus described by an observer, who sent his message by private hand to Lorenzo Marques yesterday:

"The situation here, from a military and a political point of view, has become very critical. President Kruger yesterday admitted that for the first time matters are very grave. The hope of determination is to trust everything to

The whole of the western border of the Transvaal, from east to end, is densely populated. The Boer-DeVries campaign in which the Boers have been successful, on the other hand, will encounter the greatest resistance. The Boer endeavor is to lure the British into a position where they can surround them and then to excite the natives against the destruction of property. The Transvaal government will not dare destroy the mines and property within the British zone. The Boer dynamite has been sent down into the interior, and he has his ready aid at Zwartkops, near Johannesburg.

They have pleaded for the preservation of the property. Both are large landowners, but neither is a farmer, and they have not received satisfactory replies from President Kruger. Meanwhile many French and German adventures have come forward offering to supply the money for blowing up the British troops. One of these has received tacit permission to experiment. One German intention is for the use on a railway, but this is perfectly concealed until the weight of a passing train explodes the charge.

"Gen. Lucas Meyer says surrender would be at once proposed by the Boers if everybody fears the ignominy of being killed by the British. He declares that he is prepared to capitulate. He says that he is prepared to surrender."

President Kruger's proclamations to the burghers asking their votes for or against continuing the war, is understood to be that they can quit now if they wish, but that if they refuse to do so, the possibility of retaining their arms, or continue to the bitter end, is not a possibility. The indications are current in Lord Roberts's army that the Boers intend to surrender.

Other correspondents view the London papers that there are 100,000 men in the Boer ranks; but this is hardly credible.

The indications are that a pitched battle is imminent at Laing's Nek.

with an estimated strength of from eight to ten thousand men. The reinforcements include a large party from Sydney and fresh commanders from Victoria.

Gen. Buller's officers are doubtful of the ability of the Boers to display the same tenacity as in the fighting at the battle of the Tugela, but they think that when the moment arrives they will be able to force the passes. Two boxes of dynamite fuse have been found under the Newcastle City Hall. The boxes were found by a number of suspected rebels. Forty-two have been sent to Pietermaritzburg.

Mr. Gasterhorpe, a chemist, and his wife were arrested on a charge of high treason.

With the exception of a few shots exchanged with the retiring Boers at Beersburg, the only fighting during "This nation has been blessed in wars with the most wonderful success," said the preacher. "It has never been defeated. It has been defended by such soldiers and sailors that no enemy could withstand their unswerving attacks. The San Diego ball team played the Major & Zobel team at Santa Park yesterday, beating them to the tune of 10 to 1. San Diego won the game in the first three innings, when it scored five runs.

After the fourth it could not score again, as the home team settled down to business and played a good steady game. It was too late, however, the visitors had enough runs with some to spare.

Both pitchers were touched up pretty hard, but Farrow received the better support, and kept the hits scattered so they were not productive of tallies.

Only in one inning was he hit hard. In the fifth the locals bunched five hits which netted them three runs, the only time it scored during the game. San Diego made thirteen hits and four errors, while Major & Zobel got twelve hits and eight errors.

For the visitors Bowman and Treanor led in the batting and Little carried off the honors in the field. His catch of Jefferson's line drive over first base was a beauty. For the home team the double play of Weed, Wilson and Geric was the feature.

San Diego was first to bat. Hartley took first on Wilson's error, stole second and scored on Walling's throw to center field.

In the second Keller was safe at first on Weed's fumble; took third on Leiland's high throw to first and scored while Treanor was being put out between first and second.

In the third Keller led off with a single. Hartley flew out to right; Bowman hit one for three bases, scoring Farrow. Gibbs flew out to left, Bowman scoring on the play. Little took first on Weed's error. Keller singled; Treanor singled, scoring Little. Five were added in the fourth. Farrow struck out; Hartley hit one for two bases, scoring Little. Bowman singled; Gibbs singled, taking second on Walling's fumble. Bowman scored on the play. Little was hit by a pitched ball; Keller lined out a single; Treanor then hit for three bases, scoring both Little and Keller; Bowman scored on the throw home catching Treanor; Cameron ended the agony by hitting to first and going out.

Major & Zobel scored all its runs in the fifth. Moore, the first batter up, singled; Geric flew out to short, who tried for a double at first which Little allowed to get away from him, putting Moore on second. Little hit one for two bases, scoring Moore; Jefferson singled, scoring Little; Weed made a single, putting Jefferson on third. He then stole second, and both scored on Leiland's single. It did not score again during the game.

KIDALGO'S COSSIP.

Well, another Brooklyn Handicap has passed into history, and while it was run on a muddy track and under leaden skies, yet it was a great race for all that. The victory on Kinley Mac however, is only a temporary one, what his name will achieve in November next, and while the time, 2:10, is not fast, it is as fast as any ever run on an muddy ground. The fact that he carried 122 pounds at four years old, conceding nine pounds to Raffaele of the same age, stamps him as a horse of higher class than his performance of last year, good as they undoubtedly were, would indicate to the student of racing form.

In 1927, Eurus, a five-year-old horse, by Eurus, with 117 pounds, took 2:12 to negotiate the same distance in the mud; and in the year previous the great Troubadour made it in 2:12. So that this performance of Kinley Mac does not suffer by comparison. The winner was bred at Oronota farm, near Rossmore, in this county, and foaled in 1926, his sire (since sent back to England for want of patronage) being stable at Mr. Reed's farm, as a matter of convenience to his then owner, J. W. Robinson of Rossmore. I append a list of the winners of the Brooklyn Handicap for the past ten years:

Year	Winner	Time	Weight
1927	Eurus	2:12	117 lbs.
1926	Troubadour	2:12	112 lbs.
1925	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.
1924	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.
1923	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.
1922	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.
1921	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.
1920	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.
1919	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.
1918	Mac	2:10	122 lbs.

Of all these the fastest weight carried was in 1927, by Eurus, who had 122 pounds, at five years, conceding nine pounds to the second horse, Prince Royal, and twelve to the third, the third horse in the race. The lightest weight carried to date was by Cutaway II in 1926, he having 160 pounds at four years. Badger, the yearling, was second with 115, and Erie, four years, 110 pounds was third. Los Angeles, five years, 116 pounds, and Come to Tow, four years, 116 pounds, most ran a dead heat for fourth place.

THE MAN OF THE WEEK.

GEORGE N. WISWELL.

One of the most important personages about a convention is the sergeant-at-arms, and this position at the National Republican Convention will be held by George N. Wiswell of Wisconsin. He has had a great deal of experience in handling political assemblies, having been assistant sergeant-at-arms at the national conventions at Chicago in 1924, Minneapolis in 1926 and St. Louis in 1928. He is a Wisconsin man by birth, and is now 48 years old. He learned the trade of tinner and plumber, and established himself in business. In 1924 he was elected sheriff of his county, and in 1926 President Harrison appointed him United States Marshal for the eastern district of Wisconsin, and he held the office until 1928. During his term of office he effected the breaking up of several notorious and dangerous gangs of robbers and counterfeiters. Since 1928 he has been secretary and general manager of the Fraternal Alliance Insurance Company. He is a popular politician, and his friends are pleased at his selection for this responsible position.

trip will begin October 12, and will consist of only two games. The following is the schedule: October 12—St. Stephens, at Princeton. October 13—Lehigh, at Princeton. October 14—State College, at Princeton. October 15—Baltimore Medical College, at Baltimore. October 16—Annapolis, at Annapolis. October 17—Syracuse University, at Syracuse. October 18—Lafayette, at Princeton. October 19—Brown, at Providence. November 2—Cornell, at Princeton. November 3—Columbia, at New York. November 10—Dartmouth, at Princeton. November 12—Yale, at Princeton.

Field Days Pay. The Southern California Intercollegiate athletic field day, held at Ventura on Saturday, May 19, was a financial success in every particular. The gate receipts amounted to $250, and the expenses of the meet were $130. The six participating schools each received $25, while the balance was left in the athletic treasury. The next annual field day will probably be held in Santa Barbara. The Santa Barbara High School is very desirous of having the meet in Santa Barbara. It has been held in Ventura for three seasons. It is possible that inducements may be offered to the schools in Southern California to join the association, and participate in the athletic contest.
